

FROZEN HEARTS

There was a beautiful woman who has brown hair, blue eyes. She was Katie who was just 21. Katie was decided to being a violinist and she studied hard. Finally, she could settle into fine arts academy.

Katie lived far from her family because of her education but she was happy because her parents were proud of her. They had a deep faith in Katie's successful future. One morning, Katie saw herself on FutureTal Magazine. It finally happened. Katie was on a very important magazine for her career. So, was it important only for that?

Among the readers of the magazine, there was a man who was 45. He wasn't innocent. He was in prison for a while because of his crimes such as theft, harassment. Thanks to his successful robberies, he was rich but he didn't choose to pay bail and be free because of the men that are trying to kill him. It was more logical to stay in the jail until things calm down. Bill... The prisoner guy...

On a Tuesday morning, Katie called her mom, Hermione.

-Hi mom! What's up?

-Honey, glad to hear your voice. Everything's fine here. How are you? You sound amazing!

-Yeah mom, have you bought the FT today?

-Not yet. Why?

-I am waiting for your call mom, bye!

And Hermione heard call end tone suddenly. Such a crazy girl. She got dressed and went out to buy the FT. She was wondering the important thing. Katie was having interviews for weeks in this magazine, what may be the new one? When Hermione learned it, she immediately called Katie.

-Oh my god! You're giving a concert on your dreamed stage. That's amazing! I'm so happy for you dear.

-When I got the offer, I cried because of happiness mom. I'm so excited. Wish you could come and watch me, too.

-Hey, you know I'm always with you. When you come here you can show me the video, okay?

-Sure, mom. I've got to go. Love you.

-Me too. Watch yourself, baby.

A concert... Fans could meet Katie at the end of the show... These were Bill's thinkings. He had money to pay his bail and then he could be free. There were 10 days to the show. He had to wait until next Monday. It was going to be hard for him but in the end, everything was going to be amazing for Katie and Bill. Katie was going to fall in love with him, they were going to get married and have children. There was one thing to do: meeting with the lawyer.

Finally, the show day came. Katie wore a black dress and she was looking elegant with it. Hermione sent that with a note in the pocket: Dear Katie, I won't be there but when you wear that, I'm sure you will feel that I'm with you. Love you. It was going to be the greatest day for Katie.

She took a deep breath and stepped on the stage. The listeners thought that she was born to be a violinist. After an hour, the show ended and some listeners came backstage to take a picture with her. Katie thanked God for giving her a dreamed night.

Katie left the building and at the door, she saw her cousin Jack. She got surprised because she didn't think that he will come to show. They grow up together so Jack's arrival was too meaningful for Katie. She hugged Jack with happiness. Hugging... To another man...

Bill was secretly waiting when he saw them together. How can Katie betray him? He decided to follow Katie and talk to her when it is possible. The reckoning time was getting closer step by step. After 15 minutes, when Katie arrived home and put the key into the lock, she felt a frightening breath on her neck.

-Katie, my darling, how could you do that?

There was an unknown man behind her. She was shocked and turned her back immediately before he gets closer.

-Who are you? What are you talking abo-

Before Katie could talk, she felt a terrible pain in her chest. She was trying to prevent him meanwhile she felt the same feeling again but this time, it was on her stomach. What a beautiful concert... What an amazing night which full of lovely listeners of her... She heard these sentences before closing her eyes for good:

-I love you until my heart stops, dear Katie. Anybody can touch you anymore, wait for me there. I'll find you and we'll have an amazing life together...

Maybe this story is ending here, but in the real-life, unfortunately, the stories like that will never find an end. We call ourselves "human". So, why don't we act like a human? To have happy-ended lives...
